Sheer Beauty™

UNDERSTANDING
A WOMAN'S TRUE
INHERITANCE

A WOMEN'S RETREAT WITH LEIGH BARKLOW

Sheer Beauty is a retreat inviting women to a deeper, more true and lasting beauty in the Kingdom of God. This kind of beauty, not easily come by, is born out of the trials and testings, the triumphs and the tragedies of the reality of the story we find ourselves living in.

A life of sheer beauty is found in the dreaming, the dying, the surrendering, the training, the bowing down and the rising up, the running and finally the reigning with Christ in this life and in the age to come. Sheer beauty is our true inheritance.

By God's hand our identity is imparted and yet the call on our lives is hard fought for. Sonship is bestowed by our Father and costs us nothing, but walking in our true glory costs us everything. Being a princess in the Kingdom is a gift, but becoming a queen and reigning with Jesus is a destiny long chosen. We begin this life with God by faith, but we finish the race by faithfulness.

"Every time I've heard Leigh speak I sense she shares from a place of having traveled to the depths and back. Her teaching calls me to the wonder of 'ministering to the heart of God' with my life." - Yvette Bone

During this retreat, we will explore where we find ourselves in God's story and in light of the hour we

"Leigh has the unique gift of speaking so your heart understands and interprets the prompting of God. Of all the women that brought us the message of freedom and restoration for the heart of a woman, Leigh has always been my favorite because I know her soul has journeyed to the places of desert and also leapt into the springs of Life." - Becky Guyor are currently living, what it will look like to gain this kind of beauty and answer the call... “For such a time as this...”

We will look at the 7 great longings of the heart, how those longings are imbedded in our hearts from childhood, and how the dreams we dreamt as a little girl are often lost, stolen or shattered.

But is that where it ends or is this the path to longings fulfilled and dreams reawakened?

The path we find ourselves on is often filled with suffering, sacrifice and betrayal as well as beauty, hope and life. The things we have walked through are often the very preparation and training that leads to the revealing of who we are and empowers us to rescue those who desperately need us.

This weekend will be an intimate and interactive time filled with awakening, healing and discovery of our destiny, in a beautiful setting. The retreat begins Thursday evening, October 3rd and ends Sunday afternoon the 6th.

“Leigh’s message is both transcendent and intimate, an apt mirror of our relationship with our Father. She touches on universal themes of womanhood and woundedness, gently inviting the listener to revisit life’s moments, rediscovering beauty and accepting healing. Her truly tender and humble spirit invoke God’s healing presence for a deeply personal encounter with Love.”
